Morgan Street Improvement Will Get
Under Way Again, With Traction
Line Taking Responsibility

FOR BASE UNDER ITS TRACK

Complaint Made to Council of Conduct of Persons in City Park—
Police Protection Ordered

A controversy over the construction of the concrete base upon which the I. & C. tracks are to be laid in Morgan street, and which has stopped the paving work for several days, was taken up at the council meeting Tuesday, and the traction company won their point, and can proceed to build a base under their tracks in any manner that they see fit.

This decision was reached after quite a long argument between A. L.
Stewart, city engineer, and W. H.
Moore, engineer for the traction company. Mr. Stewart ordered the work stopped last week, when he heard that the traction line was not going deep enough with their concrete foundation and were not following the plans and specifications.

Mr. Stewart, in making the plans, stated that the concrete beneath the rails should be eight inches, and extend six inches beyond the end of the ties. The traction company was preparing to lay a six inch foundation and only for the width of their roadbed.

The contention of Mr. Stewart was that Morgan street is unusually soft and springy, and that the weight of the heavy trains that are operated over the street, will cause the tracks to vibrate, and that the asphalt paving will chip, crack and break, and the street would be ruined.

The traction company maintained that the city was not interested in the traction company's part of the work, and D. L. Smith, their attorney called attention to the fact that the franchise sets out that the interurban company has full right to use their portion of the street in any manner and that the maintenance of the street is shouldered by the traction company.

On account of the franchise, the city council threw up the sponge on the matter, and went on record with the notation that the traction company will be held liable at all times for any break or damage done to the paving, and the clerk's record was ordered to read with words to that effect.

The work with the paving will get started again this week, according to Mr. Moore.

A petition asking for the construction of cement sidewalks in West Third street, from the Nickel Plate railroad west to Iva street, on the south side of the highway, was filed and granted. The sidewalk program will make the west end of Third street

MARRIED FORTY YEARS, SEEKING A DIVORCE

Samuel H. Epler, Local Oil Agent,
Charges Wilful Abandonment in
His Complaint

SUIT AGAINST STUCKERS

After being married almost forty years, a divorce suit was filed today in the circuit court, in which the husband alleges that his wife has wilfully abandoned him, and has not lived with him for four years.

The suit was brought by Samuel H.
Epler against Edie Epler. They were married in Ann Arbor, Mich., October 17, 1884, according to the complaint, and separated September 6, 1920, since when they have not lived together. The charge of abandonment is the only cause contained in the complaint.

The suit sets out that the plaintiff is a resident of Rushville, and lives at 510 North Harrison street, and is the local representative for an oil agency, and this his wife is living at 2014 East Superior St., Alma, Michigan.

Among the new suits filed, is a complaint by Otto F. Bussard against Elizabeth N. Stueker and others, in which the plaintiff demands judgment for $400 on an account.

TO CONDUCT EUROPEAN TOUR

Miss Henrietta Coleman Will Sail
With Party of 21 Saturday

Miss Henrietta Coleman, supervisor of art in the Rushville schools, who left Tuesday evening for New York City, will sail Saturday on the S. S. Orbita with a party of twenty-one persons for a tour of Europe.
Miss Coleman has conducted parties in the past on overseas tours, her knowledge of the art, history and literature of the countries to be visited making the trip especially valuable to those in the party.

All of the capitals of the continent and the British Isles will be visited and cities of historic lore are on the itinerary.

The party is scheduled to arrive in Montreal on the return trip home
August 31.

AGED RECLUSE FOUND DEAD TUESDAY NIGHT

Body of Thomas Ross in First Stages of Decomposition When Discovered Near Home

SEARCH FOR MONEY FRUITLESS

Thomas Ross, age 71 years, an eccentric and anachronistic citizen of Walker township, was found dead in the woods near his secluded shack on the Ora Lower farm Tuesday evening about seven o'clock.

County coroner Dr. J. M. Lee was called and investigated the death, and returned a verdict that death was due to natural causes, probably heart trouble or apoplexy. The deceased had probably been dead since Sunday, and his body was in first stages of decomposition.

Mr. Ross had lived the life of a hermit for 30 years and was regarded as a most peculiar person in his vicinity. He was scarcely ever seen, and maintained his residence in a small shack on the Lower farm, northeast of Homer.

He had been married at one time, it was stated, but had developed into a recluse after his wife had died. His body was found in the woods about dark, by persons who were passing his cabin. An attempt to locate any money in his home has failed and it was not known whether he had it buried or hidden.

As far as could be determined, he is survived by only a half sister, who is said to reside in Sharpsville, Ind.

Funeral services will be held Thursday morning at ten o'clock at the Pleasant Ridge M. E. church in charge of the Rev. E. L. Miller of Arlington, and burial will be made in the church cemetery.

Jurists Named to Hear Trial of Bert
Wilson and Smith-Beale Mortgage

LIQUOR TRIAL IS DELAYED

Two special court judges were named this morning in the circuit court to try cases that are pending for trial, and for which a list of judges was submitted, after a change was granted from the local court.

In the criminal suit of the State against Bert Wilson, charged with violating the liquor laws, and which was set for today, but delayed on account of the change of judge, the selection has left the appointment open to Fremont Miller, regular judge of the Johnson county court.
He will set the trial for a hearing.

In this case, the state struck off the names of Judge James Collins of Indianapolis and Judge Charles A.
Lowe of Lawrenceburg, and the defense struck off Ralph Himelick of Connersville and John W. Craig of Greensburg, leaving the name of Judge Miller.

In the other case, the attorneys this morning selected Judge Craig of Greensburg to hear the complaint of Walter E. Smith against Edith Beale and John Beale, a suit on a mortgage. In this complaint three judges were submitted, with the defendant striking off Judge Rufus Hinshaw of Newcastle and the plaintiff striking off Judge Miller of Franklin.

Hoosier Delegation Determined to Capture Democratic Presidential Nomination For Him

TO BE HELD IN NEW YORK

If Ralston is Formally Presented,
Van Nuys Will Make Nominating Speech—Local Men Going

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., June 18—Five hundred Hoosiers determined to capture the Democratic presidential nomination for Senator Ralston or know the reason why, will leave Indianapolis Saturday afternoon for the Democratic convention in New York.

Meredith Nicholson, chairman of the publicity committee spreading the information on Ralston to the Democrats of the nation, is already in New York.

Tom Taggart under whose guidance Ralston's boom has developed will reach New York Wednesday or Thursday for a series of pre-convention caucuses with leaders of other states.

It has not been definitely decided whether Ralston will be formally placed in nomination. The course of campaign will be determined at the last moment in New York.

If Ralston's name is formally presented to the convention Frederick Van Nuys, keynote orator at the recent Democratic state convention will probably make the nomination speech.

If Ralston's name is not placed in nomination the Indiana delegation will vote solidly for him and work to rally strength to his cause as the balloting progresses.

Ralston himself will not be in New York. He will stay at his country home near Indianapolis during the convention and according to all indications will continue to refuse to make any move that might be interpreted as formally getting into the race.

With flags and bunting and banners proclaiming the Ralston boom, the Hoosier special will pull out of the Union station at 4 p. m. Saturday afternoon. It will make stops at Richmond and Ft. Wayne to pick up delegations and will reach New York at 2:05 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Twelve years ago a Hoosier special went from Indianapolis to the Baltimore convention to boom Thomas R.
Marshall for the presidency. It came back with the vice president nomi-

Hundreds of Trees Felled and Many

Lifting of Ban Not Effective Until
Afternoon of July 3. But Noise-
Making Has Started

(By United Press)
Benton, Ill., June 18—A destructive wind of almost hurricane proportions, hit Benton today and wrecked the city. Hundreds of trees were blown down and dozens of buildings felled. Traffic is impossible in many streets, trees as large as two feet in diameter, having been torn up by the roots.

The city is without electric service and phones are crippled.
Hardware stores sold out entire
stocks of axes as property owners
started clearing the yards and
streets. Many store fronts in the business streets were shattered by the wind.

Hardware stores sold out entire
stocks of axes as property owners
started clearing the yards and
business streets were shattered by
the wind.

Complaints are being registered about the firing of fireworks, which has become annoying to many people.

Since the ban on fireworks, which has been in effect here for several years, was lifted for the Fourth on account of the Modern Woodmen State Log Rolling and celebration here, local dealers have laid in a heavy supply of fireworks with the understanding that none be sold until the afternoon of July 3, when the celebration can begin legally.

Several Rushville dealers this morning called attention of the prominous firing Tuesday night and said that someone was evidently disobeying the orders of the city authorities.

Many dealers have been taking orders for fireworks to be delivered Thursday afternoon, July 3, but none has permitted any to be taken from their stores, it is said.

They say that fireworks is being sold in all of the small towns of the county, and that boys, in all probability, have been going to these towns to get their supply.

Even though they buy their fireworks elsewhere, boys and others are warned that firecrackers should not be fired in Rushville until the afternoon of July 3, when the celebration begins officially.

Vice Presidential Nominee Says That
He Will Ask no Quarter and Will

SPEAKS TO HIS NEIGHBORS

Standing in Heavy Rain, Tells
Friends Political Demagogues Are Cursing The World Over

(By United Press)
Chicago, June 18—Charles G.
Dawes, explosive Republican vice presidential nominee, has leaped into the campaign without waiting for official notification of his nomination.

"Dawes just had to say something," Wm. M. Butler, chairman of the national Republican committee, remarked with a broad smile, "so he said it."

Standing in a heavy rain, with water streaming down his bare head and into the collar of a rain coat, Dawes told a gathering of men and women on the east lawn of the Dawes Evanston home that he would trail the political demagogue to his lair and "ask no quarter and give none." Political demagogues are a curse the world over, Dawes said. Europe's unhappiness he attributed in large measure to demagogues.

Dawes called for honest discussions of public affairs and issued the following challenge:

"As to the demagogue on the stump, whatever may be his party, I want it distinctly understood that in the coming campaign I ask no quarter and give no quarter."

After the Dawes speech the crowd furling its umbrellas and filed into the house for the handshaking, which lasted an hour and left Dawes frankly weary.

Butler will leave for Washington on Friday where he will discuss plans for the campaign with President Coolidge. Butler refused to discuss the rumors of disagreement among leaders of the campaign, stating an amicable adjustment had already been made.

DROWNING IS ACCIDENTAL

Death of 3 Persons at Wheaton, Ill.,
First Thought Foul Play

Wheaton, Ill. June 18—The drowning of Mr. and Mrs. William Barr and Mrs. Emma Mack, a widow, here yesterday, where their automobile plunged into a quarry filled with some fifty feet of water, was accidental, police announced today.

Foul play was suspected when the body of Mrs. Barr recovered today with that of Mrs. Mack, was found to be nude. Two relatives of the victim were taken into custody but they were released later. Police said the clothing had been torn from Mrs.
Barr's body by grappling hooks.

Frank Havens, City Sanitary Inspector, Has Not Completed Annual

PEOPLE COOPERATE WELL

Frank Havens, city sanitary inspector, who has been assisting the board of health, under the direction of Dr. E. I. Wooden, stated today that he was completing the annual spring inspection of premises. His work has been considerably delayed on account of the rain during May.

More than 100 orders to clean up were issued during his inspection trip and although he has accomplished much in the way of getting rid of un-sanitary conditions, yet Mr. Havens says that there is still plenty of work to keep him busy for another month.

During the inspection, Mr. Havens visits every person's back yard in Rushville, although the property owner may not know it. If conditions are sanitary, the property is checked from his list. If dish water, slop, bad odors and filth exist, an order is left,
and a certain time is given in which the property must be cleaned. Unless the orders are carried out, the work is taken care of by the officer and the costs assessed against the property.

The people of Rushville are eager in all respects to assist in the work, after they have been shown and consulted in the matter, Mr. Havens with them, he has not experienced any trouble.

DEFENSE MAINTAINS BRIDGE IS BIG ENOUGH

Branch

BEING TRIED AT NEWCASTLE

The law suit being heard at Newcastle, sent there from here on a change of venue, involving Hodges Branch and the Big Four railroad, was nearing an end late today, and was expected to be given to Judge Rufus Hinshaw for a decision.

The action being heard was filed here by Amos Baxter against the railroad, alleging that the bridge constructed by the railroad, is not large enough to permit water to go through during flood times, and that the water backs up on premises. Eleven other similar suits are pending trial, and each complaint seeks $1,000 damages.

The plaintiff finished with the evidence yesterday, and all of the plaintiffs in the other suits were witnesses.

Today the defense was presenting evidence, and among the chief witnesses for the railroad was W. M.
Pearce of the Innis, Pearce and Company factory, located near the branch. Mr. Pearce as well as other witnesses for the defense, maintained that the fault was not with the bridge, but with the city officials in not cleaning and dredging the small branch. These witnesses maintained that the water could be taken care of,
if the old bed, weeds and banks were cleaned and cut deeper.

POSSIBILITIES OF PARK ANNEX SEEN

Business Men Enthusiased Over Thirty-Acre Addition After Visit Following Luncheon

AUTO BRIDGE COMPLETED

J. W. Schwab Urges Support of Indiana Fair as Matter of State
Pride, at Park Session

The automobile bridge over Hodges branch, which connected up the Memorial park addition so that it may now be reached in machines, since streets have been laid out in the Stewart and Stewart addition, was completed by Rushville business men Tuesday afternoon, following a luncheon in the park, given by the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs.

James H. Lowry, former park commissioner of Indianapolis, and J. W.
Schwab of Purdue University, addressed the meeting following the meal, and afterwards the business men went to the park annex, not so much to work, as explained by Samuel L. Trabue, who acted as chairman of the meeting but to get a view of the addition and an understanding of its possibilities.

Members of the two clubs and their guests, however, had enough implements along to make some showing in the park annex, which had already been given a thorough cleaning by city workmen. They cut some of the undergrowth along the branch, which is the eastern boundary of the park, and built a temporary bridge, so that the park will be accessible for the Fourth of July, when more than 10,000 people are expected here for State Modern Woodmen Log Rolling and celebration.

Many business men who got their first glimpse of the park annex were amazed at its natural beauty and were very much enthused over the possibilities of making it a beautiful park. Many stately oaks and elms dot the thirty-acre tract and wild rose bushes are growing in abundance.
The ground is level and covered with a thick stand of grass, making an ideal condition for a park. The underbrush has been cleared away and dead limbs cut from the trees.

Mr. Lowry said that he had never seen a park acreage with as many fine trees, and he asserted that any one of the trees, is worth at least $1,000. There are scores of them in the park annex. He advocated extreme care be taken of the trees, so as not to lose any of them, as the first step in park development.

Mr. Schwab made a short talk regarding the improved state fair, asserting that he fair management, during the seventy years of its existence had been building for the future so that the present generation was now able to enjoy one of the best

GOVERNOR ACTS ON TWO LOCAL APPEALS

Refuses Pardon to Charles Marsh of Milroy and Reduces Sentence of

Indianapolis, Ind., June 18—Governor Branch disapproved fourteen of the 28 recommendations made by the State Pardon Board for paroles Tuesday. Commutations of sentences and privilege of paying fines in installments.

Three unconditional paroles were granted and three refused. It was the first pardon list the governor has confronted with since assuming office. He announced himself as opposed to granting clemency to criminals at the expense of society.

Governor Branch approved a reduction of the sentence of Orville Maple from 2 to 14 to one to 14 years. He was sentenced from Rush-county for embezzlement.

Petitions on which the pardon board recommended refusal also included Charles Marsh of Rush county, liquor law violation. Marsh lived in Milroy and was sentenced upon a plea of guilty, admitting the sale of liquor to high school boys in that town. He was sentenced in the city court at Rushville.

uniform in appearance, where it is now unimproved. The petition calls for sidewalks for a distance of more than three blocks.

The engineer was ordered to draw up plans and specifications for the improvement, and remonstrances will be heard at an early date.

Property owners residing on the east side of Morgan street, between Ninth and Tenth streets, filed a petition asking for cement gutters, to take care of an oversupply of water during a rain, and the petition was granted, and the project will be constructed by the property owners under the supervision of the city engineer.

The question of locating the Salvation Army on a corner where they will not congest traffic was again taken up, and it was decided to mark off 25 feet on the street, at the northwest corner of the court house, diagonally across the street from the American National bank, where they have been conducting their services.

Complaint concerning conduct of persons in the city park was registered with the council, and arrests will be made where persons are found not conducting themselves properly. Park custodian Sampson was sworn in as a police officer, and as the police department has had another officer added to the force, the police chief was instructed to send an officer to the park each evening to see to it that the conduct of the patrons is first class.

On account of the addition to the police force of another man, the contract with William Denny, merchant police, who turns off the down town pedestal lights for $5 a month, was cancelled, and the turning off of the lights will be a part of the regular police officers business.

Ralph Edgerton of Edgerton and Co., appeared with a proposition to have the city decorate for the Fourth of July celebration. He offered a plan of having the 60 pedestal lights ornamented with flags and lodge emblems, and the work was to cost $390. The council could not see that the expense could be met, and the plan was abandoned.

The first car load of street oil has been ordered, and will arrive within a few days. The streets are being put in shape rapidly for the oiling.

The Rushville Natural Gas company was ordered to bury their gas pipes in Eleventh street, so that streets can be built into the Stewart and Stewart Memorial park addition. The pipes are now above the ground, and extend through the park. The city wants the pipes buried as soon as possible, so that the streets can be opened, as heavy traffic is expected in that part of the city on July 4.

The C. I. & W. railroad was ordered to clean up around their right-of-way at Harrison and Fourth streets. A pile of discarded material has been on hand for several months, and has been pointed to as an unsightly view in the neighborhood.

state fairs in the United States.

"I am pleased to notice," he said, "that you men are building for the future by adding an annex to this little park, and you will soon find that you did not build too big."

Mr. Schwab pointed out that the fair was primarily agricultural, but that industrial interests were crowding in, and that it had become an exhibition of great educational value.

"As the largest hog producing county in Indiana," he continued, "and one of the best corn counties in the state, it behooves you to boost the state fair because of its worth as an educational factor in agriculture."

Mr. Schwab said that we make progress only by comparison, and that farmers who went to the state fair and saw the prize winners in livestock, grain and horticulture departments, were inspired to do greater things and produce better products.

"Thus the big standards at the fair," he added, "set the type for the entire country."

Mr. Schwab commented that no man's livestock or crops can advance any farther than the man himself, and that if prize products are developed in the county, it means that man of quality are behind them.

Mr. Schwab described the new hog and sheep barns and the Purdue exhibition building, which have been erected at a cost of one million dollars. He characterized the new equipment as the best, most modern, and most serviceable that it is possible to put up.

The speaker said that more than $106,000 in purses and premiums would be awarded at the fair this year. The premiums for boys and girls club work alone will total $6,000, he said.

Mr. Schwab described other features, such as the home economics school, to attend which each county is permitted to nominate one girl; the baby clinic and baby show, in which 900 babies were entered last year; the display of farm machinery and implements, the automobile exhibit, horse races and amusements, which he said would stand the test of the most critical.

"The fair is a state institution," Mr. Schwab asserted in closing, "and as a matter of state pride, we want to urge you to talk the state fair. The state board of agriculture is building from the experiences of the past, mindful of the needs of the present, for those who are not yet here."

MORE THAN $100,000 OF LOOT IS RECOVERED

ALL OF LOOT WILL BE REGAINED

(By United Press)
Chicago, June 18—Carlos Fontana, charged by police with being a notorious bandit, today was added to the list of men held in connection with the $3,000,000 mail train robbery near Rondout, Ills., last week. More than $100,000 of the loot has been recovered.

Now the police want Ernest Fontana, brother of Carlos, and Anthony Kissane, and the case will be complete, Chief of Police Collins said. Recovery of the balance of the loot is assured, Collins stated.

The recovered loot was found in an abandoned automobile near Joliet, Ills. There were 62 registered mail sacks in the car. All had been ripped open and ransacked for currency. First reports to Chicago police were that nearly two-thirds of the loot had been recovered.

Huntington Grand Jury Probes Interurban Disaster of May 29

Huntington, Ind., June 18—The Huntington county grand jury meeting in special session is investigating the Roanoke Interurban wreck in which five persons were killed, May 29.

K. V. Hollingsworth, the motorman on the Wabash flyer which crashed into a special car, was the first witness to appear before the grand jury. He was followed by S. K. Crowl, train dispatcher.

The train crew of the east bound special was held responsible for the wreck in the reports of Corcher Good and the state public service commission. Failure of the Indiana Service Corporation to compel obedience of its rules was given as a contributory cause.

BRYAN SEES ONLY ECONOMIC ISSUES

Says Democratic Platform Will Be Liberal Enough to Make LaFollette Candidacy Unnecessary

Two Principal Candidates for Presidential Nomination Installed in Headquarters

(By United Press)

Battle-reek, Mich., June 18—The democratic national platform is likely to be liberal enough to make the candidacy of Senator LaFollette unnecessary, William Jennings Bryan, declared here today.

Unless unexpected developments occur in international affairs the 1924 presidential election will be fought over economic issues, Bryan said.

New York, June 18—The first phase of the Democratic national convention of 1924 began unfolding today.

The two principal candidates to date—Governor A. Smith and William Gibbs M'Adoo—are installed in their headquarters prepared for continuous personal direction of their respective convention campaign, M'Adoo arriving this afternoon.

Likewise the leading convention strategists—George Brennan, Thomas Taggart and Ed Moore—will have arrived. Political medicine is brewing all over the city.

Upon his arrival here from Chicago this morning, Brennan was his usual uncommunicative self. "I am not a candidate for any office," he said. "So I'm not doing any talking."

Brennan went directly to his hotel where he was scheduled for conferences during the day.

Up to the present time pre-convention developments have been confined to surmises of a few scattered delegates who knew little but talked much, to propagandists who were eagerly advancing the cause of this candidate and that, or trimming some plank for the platform.

There has been much discussion of the possibility of abolishing the two-thirds rule—the guesses being about even that M'Adoo will and that he will sponsor the proposed change. Guessing on that point may stop late today, when he arrives in the city.

MAY CHANGE DIRECTORATE

Newark, N. J. Rotary Proposes Doves-Tailing Directors of Rotary

Toronto, Ont., June 18—Agitation for a proposal to remodel the directorate of the Rotary Clubs by electing directors for a two year term and having only half the board retire each year, have been started in the convention being held here this week.

This proposal for a dove-tailing directorate comes from the Newark N. J. club who would also increase the membership of the board from 8 to 10 allowing six American directors, one Canadian, one British and two others to be chosen by the eight directors already appointed, from the other geographical areas in which Rotary is represented.

FRANK HALL, AGE 62, DIES AT HOME IN MAYS

Born in Ohio and Spent Early Days in Kentucky, But Was Resident of County 35 Years

FUNERAL FRIDAY, 2 P. M.

Frank Hall, aged 62 years, died Tuesday evening at 10:30 o'clock, at his late residence in Mays, following a ten months illness with sugar diabetes and hardening of the arteries. He had been bedfast for the past seven weeks.

Mr. Hall was born in Ohio and spent most of his younger days in Kentucky. He has been a resident of this county for the past thirty-five years. The deceased was a member of the Christian church at Dunreith and of the Odd Fellows lodge at Milroy. The survivors are the widow, two sons, Clarence and Wilbur Hall, and two grand children, Margaret and Frank.

The funeral services will be conducted at the First Presbyterian church in Mays Friday afternoon at two o'clock and burial will take place in the Knightstown cemetery.

The Park Annex

It is a human weakness to think the grass is greener on the other side of the river, that our neighbors are more fortunate than we, or that other communities are blessed with better natural advantages.

Of course, people who have taken the time to give thought to these fallacies know they are not true, but the natural inclination is to see the glamour of things at a distance to the exclusion of the beauties under daily observation.

So it was necessary for the former park commissioner of Indianapolis, Frank H. Lowry, to come to Rushville to bring citizens of the city to a better appreciation of the rich possession Rushville has in its city park of natural beauty and the annex of thirty acres, which is to be dedicated to the memory of Rush county boys who died during the late war.

Mr. Lowry said that he had never seen an acreage blessed with so many fine trees. Too many people have viewed the trees in the park as just trees, never thinking of their immense value in the park, never realizing that they represent the work of nature for more than a century and that they could not be replaced for any sum of money.

It is not so many years ago that the late C. H. Parsons, then a member of the city council, was ridiculed for forcing through a program of tree conservation in the city park. He had a vision of the future that few other people had. He realized that if the park was to serve future generations as it should, the stately trees there should not be allowed to die.

More than a decade later we have an experienced park man preaching the same doctrine. Mr. Lowry said that the first step in park development was conserving the natural resources of the park, which consists principally of the trees. That means they should not be allowed to become diseased and die, but that they should be cared for by experienced hands.

This is only one step in the direction of park development. It is necessary, as Mr. Lowry explained, to prepare a well-thought out program, recognizing the needs of the present, but always with a vision of the future and what the park will mean to our children and our children's children.

A Chronic P. O. Purse

One reason why President Coolidge vetoed the $68,000,000 postal salary increase bill was that the receipts of the postal service were not sufficient

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—How will the Democratic convention react to eloquence?

That is the question friends of two of the dark horse possibilities are asking. For on the oratory of one and the same speaker depend to a very great extent the fortunes in the convention of the two presidential entries from the Buckeye state.

James M. Cox, Democratic nominee in 1920, will have behind him a delegation from Ohio instructed to fight for his nomination for a second chance at the presidency.

None of these delegates believe Cox stands any reasonable chance of nomination.

"Lightning," they opine, "doesn't strike twice in the same place." When reminded of Bryan and his three renominations, they switch their metaphor and say that "Bryan is the only Democratic cat with nine lives."

And yet, behind this scepticism, there flickers a faint hope that the unexpected may happen. This hope is kindled by the belief that the speech putting Cox in nomination will be the most eloquent and appealing utterance to be made at the convention.

Cox will be placed in nomination by his fellow-Ohioan, Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war.

Baker is a small man physically, but a mighty orator. He, more than any other Democrat of today has the "gift of tongues."

Compelling, forceful, appealing, there is a persuasive quality alike to his argument and his logic that moves his hearers.

On this speech, more than on any other factor, rests Cox's chances for a "come-back." But even Cox's most loyal friends admit that it is a long shot. Frankly, they doubt that it can be done.

A much more likely result, in the opinion of wise political minds, is that the reaction to the Baker speech may project him before the convention as a presidential figure himself and that Baker instead of Cox will prove to be Ohio's real figure in the contest.

THE most rapidly inflating boom of the immediate pre-convention days, however, is that for Senator Carter Glass of Virginia. Glass combines certain elements of strength, politically, that put him well up in the list of likely "compromise" candidates.

As a member of the Wilson cabinet and a champion of Wilson policies he would hold the favor of a large part of the former president's followers in the convention. He would be acceptable to the moderately progressive or mildly conservative groups in the party.

On the other hand, Glass would be wholly acceptable to "big business" and "the interests."

This would be due not so much, perhaps, to the belief that he would lend unduly in their direction, but to the fact that they already know where he stands. They would be in no doubt as to his attitude on the majority of questions that might arise.

As chairman of the House committee that wrote the Federal Reserve Act, and as secretary of treasury, they have had ample opportunity to dissect, analyze and classify him. And he is down in their books as "satisfactory."

As a "safe and sane" candidate, one that would not rock the boat or upset any apple-carts, the conservatives are carefully refraining from throwing any rocks at Glass.

Our objection to being a champion prize fighter is you can't appoint an assistant to do all your work for you.

Trains of thought are often delayed by excess baggage.

John Rutledge, who was struck by a Pennsylvania passenger train last Tuesday morning, is doing nicely, says the New Castle courier. His condition is improving right along, due largely to his strong constitution and the attention given him.

A chautauqua for Rushville this summer, thanks to the enthusiastic promoters, who pushed the movement from start to finish. It was necessary to sell eight hundred tickets to insure success and up until last night only six hundred had been disposed of. An enthusiastic meeting was held in the court house assembly room last night and plans were made then to push the movement through to success today.

Arthur Irvin, who left here last Sunday morning in his automobile writes that he arrived in Michigan City Monday very much elated, believing that he made the longest drive in the county.

A representative of a street paving company in Indianapolis is in this city endeavoring to secure a contract from the residents on certain streets to build asphalt streets.

Concerning the beautiful home wedding of Miss Josephine Orwin, who formerly lived here, in Indianapolis last evening, the Indianapolis News says: "One of the attractive weddings of the week was that of Miss Josephine G. Orwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Scott Orwin, and William Kinsley, which took place last evening at eight o'clock at the home of the bride on North Pennsylvania street." Mr. and Mrs. Hillary Hayden of this city attended.

Trustee Anderson of Richland was in Rushville Thursday on business. (Hawkins Corner correspondent.)

The Misses Florence Frazee and Marie Clark and Walter Frazee are visiting in Augusta, Ky., and attending a house party at the home of Mrs. Semmie Jackson.

The girls of Class No. 3 of Little Flat Rock Sunday school gave a picnic in the Reeve's woods Wednesday. Those present were Misses Blanch Armstrong, Zora Carney, Laura Holden, Nellie Logan, Louise Kenner, Helen Norris, Mildred Meyers, Lois Guffin, Nellie Horton, Marion and Margaret Tittsworth, Ellen Worsham, Ruby Stewart, Irene Myers, Ruth and Geneva Crull and Bernice Bennington.

The lawyers of the city met in the assembly room of the court house this afternoon at two o'clock for the purpose of forming a bar association. A permanent organization was formed with the following officers: Claude Cambern, president; John D. McGee, vice president; Will C. McGolgin, secretary-treasurer.

The members of the Psi Iota Xi have made arrangements with Harry Meredith, the manager of the Palace theatre, to have charge of the amusement house next Wednesday evening.

Clyde Early, who is a student in Medial college in Indianapolis, returned home yesterday evening, to spend the summer vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Early.

She gave it to her children and grandchildren for biliousness and stomach complaints, so when I went to housekeeping we just naturally used it, too."

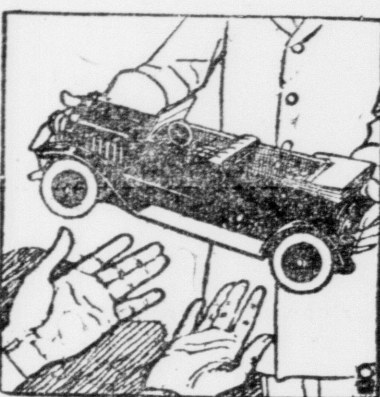

"I give it to my children for a purgative whenever they need one, and we are never without it. Made into tea, it surely is fine. It's the best home remedy for headache and constipation I know of."

"During over 80 years of its continued popularity, Black-Draught has become the standard liver medicine in many thousands of homes, where it has been found of great benefit in the treatment of constipation, biliousness, indigestion and other common liver, stomach and bowel complaints. U. S. TENNIS TEAM IS IN FINE CONDITION

Quartet of American Women Ready
For Battle For Wight Cup Beginning at Wimbledon Today

HELEN WILLS IN GOOD FORM

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

London, June 18—Her blush hidden beneath the brownest of tanned
cheeks, Helen Wills, American woman
tennis champion, was ready for the tennis fight as she and her companions on the American team got in some final touches for the fight for the Wight cup which started at Wimbledon today.

The entire team which includes,
Molly Mallory, Miss Eleanor Goss,
and Mrs. Marion Z. Jessup is in the finest physical condition although
they were hampered by poor weather
recently from getting in all the training they would have liked.

Miss Suzanne Lenglen is due to arrive tomorrow to take a look at Miss Wills' play in the Wightman
cup matches. The French girl is scheduled to play several exhibition
matches but has not yet promised to defend her singles title at Wimbledon.
Lenglen will play in the doubles
but not in the singles, it is believed,
unless she feels she can defeat Miss Wills.

KEEPING ONE EYE ON THE SCOREBOARD

Yesterday's Hero—Babe Ruth,
who besides batting out his sixteenth homer, won the game for the Yankees by scoring from second on an infield out. Score, New York 7,
Cleveland 5.

The Pirates and Braves broke even
on a double bill, the Pittsburghers
taking the first 5-2, and being shut
out by McNamara in the second 1-0.
Detroit won its straight third victory over Boston and climbed into second place. Score 7 to 4.

The Cubs could only touch Con-for four singles but made their count and beat the Phils, who hit
Keen hard, 6 to 5.

Snyder singled with the bases full
in the fifth and the Giants won from the Cards, 5 to 3.

Osborne kept his Indiana sign on the Cincinnati Reds and the Dodgers
got to Benton in the first innings,
winning 5 to 4.
The Senators made 15 hits off four
White Sox pitchers and won 15 to 6.

NEW OPEN CHAMP WON DESPITE RAIN

By FRANK GETTY
(Written for United Press)

New York, June 18—A hippocket
size "pro" is our new open golf champ.

But what little Cyril Walker of Englewood, N. J., lacks in physique
he makes up in gameness.

Few golfers ever achieved the open
title under a mental handicap such as the diminutive star overcame.

One of a field of 84 crack professionals and amateurs who met in championship play over the long and difficult course at Oakland Hills in June, Walker drew a late starting
time for the closing day's play.

As a result, throughout the entire
nine holes of his final round, he was subjected to a handicap which has beaten many a famous golfer. He knew just what he had to beat.

Every time Walker was in trouble,
he had to figure:

"Jones is in with 300 and I've played so and so and if I miss this
and take a par four on the next" etc
etc.

The gallery was counting, too, with every stroke.

But little Walker plugged right
ahead. A day before the tournament
started, few had figured him as a strong contender. At the end of the first day's play he was up with the leaders, but it wasn't until the end
of his morning round on the closing
day that New Jersey "pro" loomed up
as the darkest of dark horses, threatening Bobby Jones' title.

Walker's last nine holes were played with consummate courage, but there was one shot that sticks out,
and which will go down in golfing history.

The sixteenth hole at Oakland Hills
is a terror. It was the bane of existence to a majority of the field this year, and at the bottom of the water
hazard which traps many a second
shot lies a ball of Walter Hagen's,
marking the spot where Hagen
cracked and threw away his chances.

No. 16 is a nasty water hole, the hazard coming on the second shot. A long drive and a second shot equally
long are necessary to effect a par
four.

Walker had an advantage of one stroke over Jones at this point. Par
four would bring him in victor.

His drive was off to the right, badly placed. There was the green, with the treacherous water hazard intervening, a high wind whistling across
the fairway. To the right of the green were some bunkers, to which Walker could play, chancing five, and
making of his stroke advantage, rather than risk six or seven from a sunken ball.

The new champion hesitated, fiddled with a mid-iron, then with a driving iron, finally he set himself
and played his shot straight for the
pin. It soared over the yawning water and rolled and rolled, right up to
the cup, stopping just eight feet short.
Walker said never a word, sank the
putt for a three and put the title in his pocket right then and there.

It is always a source of satisfaction to professionals when a "pro"
takes the open title. It means so much money to him, a year's occupation as an exhibition player and other matterial advantages, whereas to an amateur it brings a little glory.

However, no amateur ever won the title twice in succession. Ominous trend, Travers tried, Chick Evans

Such popularity must be deserved

WHETHER it's tennis or
cigarettes or anything else,
popularity is no stroke of luck.
No champion ever held his
laurels except by making good.
No cigarette ever held popular
favor except by deserving it.

The popularity of Chesterfields
is an outstanding example. For months now they have been drawing over 1000 smokers a day
away from other cigarettes.
Surely this is proof of their
quality and good taste.

tried. Jones, finishing second, came closer than any of them.

This was Walker's first title. He was 23rd in last year's open, with a card of 314. In the professional golfers' championship that year he was eliminated by Jim Barnes 8 to 6, in the third round.

FIGHTS AND FIGHTERS

Buenos Aires—Juan Homes, Tex Rickards representative here, has called off all negotiations with Luis Angel Firpo pertaining to the South American boxer's appearance in the United States. Firpo demanded $10,- 000 cash, paid here in advance, the privilege of naming the referee and made other demands which could not be granted. Homes made reservations on the Southern Cross which sails for the United States tomorrow.

Chicago—Benny Leonard, world's lightweight champion, will meet Mickey Walker, welterweight champion, in New York or New Jersey this summer. Packey Schwartz, cook for Leonard stated as he left for New York. Schwartz said he had been called to start cooking at the Leonard camp.

BELGIAN PILOT IS DECLARED WINNER

DeMuyter Achieves Success for Third
Successive Time and is Awarded
Bennett Trophy

AMERICANS OUT OF RUNNING

(By United Press)

Brussels, June 18—The Belgian
balloon pilot, DeMuyter, was officially declared winner of this year's Gordon Bennett cup race today. He achieves success in this event for the third successive season and becomes
permanent owner of the trophy.

DeMuyter, piloting the Belgica,
landed at Saint Abb's Head, in Ber-
wickshire.

Previous reports that he had landed near Brighton apparently were unfounded.

McMuyter traveled the greatest distance from Brussels where the race started Sunday. The Frenchman, LaPorte was second.

All the contestants now have landed.

There were three American entries
and none figured in the money. W. G.
VanOrman, piloting the Goodyear,
landed at Amsterdam, while Captain
H. E. Honeywell, in the Uncle Sam, came down on the French coast, and Major Peck in the S-14 landed in Belgium.

Society Events

The Ladies Aid Society of the First Baptist church will meet Thursday afternoon at the church and all members are urged to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Shattlesworth and daughter Miss Bernice of Alpine, and Miss Elizabeth Shattlesworth of Fort Sumption, Ohio, were the guests of Mrs. L. T. Hart in West Second street, this morning.

The Always Present Class of the Main Street Church will meet at the home of Miss Frances Mattox in East Fifth street, Thursday evening. All the members are urged to be present.

Mattox Circle, No. 51, Ladies of the G. A. R. will meet Friday afternoon at two o'clock in the assembly room of the court house. Following the business session a Flag Day program will be given to which all veterans are invited.

There will be a meeting of the Immaculate Sodality of the St. Mary's Catholic church Friday evening at the home of Miss Margaret Kelly in West First street. It is very urgent that all the members be present and those who are to be enrolled Sunday, are also requested to be present.

Mrs. Gunn Haydon entertained the members of the Tuesday Afternoon Bridge club Tuesday afternoon at her home in North Main street. The ladies enjoyed the afternoon around the card tables and in the evening Mrs. Haydon had the ladies and their husbands for dinner, a delicious repast being served.

Mrs. Paul Newhouse entertained the members of Miss Mary Logan's Sunday school class of the First United Presbyterian church Tuesday evening at her home in West Ninth street, with a pitch-in supper. After the serving of the supper a business session and social hour was held. Thirteen members of the class were present for the meeting.

The Auxiliary club met at the home of Mrs. Mary L. Bryant Tuesday afternoon for their regular meeting. The rooms were beautifully decorated with cut flowers for the meeting. Thirteen members and five guests were present. After the business meeting a very good program was given, after which the hostess served a dainty luncheon. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Lydia Turner, July 15.

were from two to five o'clock and were enjoyed with games. At the conclusion of the party refreshments of ice cream, cake and lemonade were served. The guests were Donald Wilson, Richard Haydon, Dan Ryan, Bobby Waggener, Harold Allen, William Keeley, Charles Armstrong, Earl Brown and Forrest Carter.

The members of the Helping Hand Society of the Homer Christian church were entertained at the home of Mrs. Cyrus Willey near Homer Thursday afternoon. Eleven members and seven visitors were present. After the business session a short program was rendered. Mrs. Alonzo Willey gave a reading entitled, "Mrs. Probe makes a Short Call", which was well received. Miss Violet Willey sang a very beautiful solo and Miss Ruth Miller gave some piano selections. At the close of the evening dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held July 10 at the home of Mrs. Claude Adams in Homer.

The Psi Iota Xi sorority held initiation for the following pledges, the Misses Rosalyn Reed, Margaret Giffin, Katherine Haydon, Florence Lambert, Mildred Retherford, Marian Kinsinger, Jean Herkless and Leland Hunt, Tuesday morning at ten o'clock at the home of Mrs. Harold Pearce in North Main street. Following the pledge service, the girls motored to the Connersville Country club where a beautiful luncheon was served, honoring the new members of the sorority. The appointments for the luncheon tables were carried out in spring flowers and each pledge received a pretty corsage of flowers, as a gift from the sorority. Following the luncheon the guests played bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Warner entertained a number of guests Sunday with a dinner party at their home southwest of the city. The dining table was prettily decorated with roses and other spring flowers. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. R. Kiser, Mr. and Mrs. Fred McGinnis of this city, Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Mitchell and son Neal, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shaffer of Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Coffey of Warsaw, Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Partlow, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Partlow and children, Mr. and Mrs. Ozro Partlow and daughter Miss Mildred and grandson, Ozro Partlow, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Perin and children Laura, Wilbur and Ruth, Mrs. George Best and daughter, Ben Miller, C. C. Beck, Howard Warner, Paul George and Miss Martha Johnson of Connersville. A musical program was given in the afternoon by the McGinnis five-piece orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. George Looney, Jr., entertained with a surprise party Tuesday evening at their home in North Main street, honoring the birthday anniversary of Mrs. H. B. Armstrong. About thirty five guests were present and enjoyed the evening pleasantly with games and music.

On Tuesday evening a goodly company, the parents and friends of the pupils, met in the home of Mrs. Lucy Meredith in North Morgan street, to listen to a piano recital and musical demonstration. This class is known as "The Juvenile Music Club." Twenty-eight pupils took part in the exercises.

In addition to rendering a fine program, arranged for its educational value to the child rather than for the entertainment of the audience, there were several very pleasant surprises. Among these were rhythmic drawings, class songs, the placing of bars to unfamiliar music, melodies composed by members of the class set to familiar words and sung by the class and accompaniments by members of the class, and recitations of interesting items of musical history and practical sentiment.

Much appreciation was expressed for the great work that is being done for the boys and girls, as many of these youthful performers did not know one note from another a year ago. Whether in solo, duet, quartet or sextuple, not one failed or hesitated or seemed embarrassed. It would be hard to overestimate the value of this instruction in the rudiments of voice culture and the technique of instrumental music. The parents showed their appreciation by the generous applause given to each performer.

The D. A. R.'s are asked to please remember to bring their dishes and silverware to the picnic Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock at Memorial Park, for the annual pitch-in supper. Ice cream cones and ice cream sandwiches can be purchased for a small amount at the picnic of Ed Lyons. A large crowd of the members and their families and guests is expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mull, living southwest of the city had for their dinner guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hilligoss, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Martz and son Claire of Anderson.

The Misses Laurett Abercrombie and Olive Logan entertained a few of their friends with a lawn party near their homes in north Perkins street, last evening. The evening was spent in dancing and playing games.

Lurline Council, No. 296, D. of P., will meet in regular session Thursday evening at eight o'clock at the Red Men hall in West First street. There will be business of importance and all members are requested to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. William Clark were surprised Sunday at noon when Alvin Clark and family, Virgil Clark and family, Mr. and Mrs. Porter Winegard and Mr. and Mrs. George Clark, Harry Coons, Claud Levi, Manuel Newland, Jack Sweet, Gail Craigie, Harold Matlock, Russell Ellerman, Clifford Woods, Bert Norman, of Richland, Bert Ratkin and Bert Vogel and William Vogel, came in on them and gave them a surprise.

"Triumph," At Princess

Rod La Roque takes the palm for rapid-fire romances. First it was Nita Naldi, then Gloria Swanson and now its Leatrice Joy.

Of course it's pictures we refer to. La Roque played with Miss Naldi in the DeMille production, "The Ten Commandments," then came a featured role opposite Miss Swanson in "A Society Scandal," and at present he is featured in the principal male role in Cecil B. DeMille's newest Paramount production, "Triumph," which comes to the Princess theatre today and Thursday.

La Roque gets a great acting chance in this picture as a man who has never had to work and doesn't, only to find himself stripped of the money and power he was accustomed to as heir to the Garnet Can Works.

Miss Joy is a forewoman in the factory determined to get ahead by her own efforts and not because of any man she might marry. Victor Varconi is La Roque's rival for the girl's hand. Never having had money, he has strange ideas of its power, ideas which permit a series of gorgeous and spectacular scenes when circumstances reverse the positions of La Roque and himself.

There's a remarkable climax—a twist that will keep them guessing. Others featured in the cast of the production are Charles Ogle, Julia Faye, Theodore Kosloff, Robert Edeson, Zazu Pitts, George Fawcett and Raymond Hatton.

Jeanie McPherson is the author of the screen play.

"Main Street," Castle

The screen adaption of Sinclair Lewis' novel, "Main Street," will be shown at the Castle theatre for two days beginning today according to an announcement of this theatres management.

The pieturization of the novel is declared to have made an unusual picture wherein the characters of the story live vividly. It is said that the producers spared no time or expense in giving the picture the last perfect touches, even going to the extent of studying Main Street conditions and peculiarities. Harry Beaumont, who directed the picture, is himself a Main Street product, having been born in a small town.

Florence Vidor and Monte Blue play the feature roles, with a strong supporting cast made up of Harry Myers, Noah Beery, Louise Fazenda, Robert Gordon, Josephine Crowell, Gordon Griffiths, Otis Harlan and Alan Hale.

"Main Street" is the story of Carol Kennicott, who comes to Gopher Prairie, a small mid-western town, and instantly sets to changing it to her heart's desire—at least she tries to. She starts with her husband, Doctor Kennicott, whom she considers boorish and crude, because he is practical.

What Is The Use Of Living?

What is the use of living when a woman gets up in the morning as tired as when she went to bed at night with headache, backache, dragging-down pains, nervous, irritable and despondent? These are all symptoms of ailments peculiar to her sex which makes life a burden. Every woman in this condition should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a good old-fashioned remedy made from roots and herbs. It contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and for fifty years has been restoring women to health and strength and the joys of living.

CONTROVERSY IS WON BY THE I. & C.

Line Taking Responsibility

Complaint Made to Council of Conduct of Persons in City Park—
Police Protection Ordered

A controversy over the construction of the concrete base upon which the I. & C. tracks are to be laid in Morgan street, and which has stopped the paving work for several days, was taken up at the council meeting Tuesday, and the traction company won their point, and can proceed to build a base under their tracks in any manner that they see fit.

This decision was reached after quite a long argument between A. L. Stewart, city engineer, and W. H. Moore, engineer for the traction company. Mr. Stewart ordered the work stopped last week, when he heard that the traction line was not going deep enough with their concrete foundation and were not following the plans and specifications.

Mr. Stewart, in making the plans, stated that the concrete beneath the rails should be eight inches, and extend six inches beyond the end of the ties. The traction company was preparing to lay a six inch foundation and only for the width of their road-bed.

The contention of Mr. Stewart was that Morgan street is unusually soft and springy, and that the weight of the heavy trains that are operated over the street, will cause the tracks to vibrate, and that the asphalt paving will chip, crack and break, and the street would be ruined.

The traction company maintained that the city was not interested in the work, and D. L. Smith, their attorney called attention to the fact that the franchise sets out that the traction company has full right to use their portion of the street in any manner and that the maintenance of the street is shouldered by the traction company.

On account of the franchise, the city council threw up the sponge on the matter, and went on record with the notation that the traction company will be held liable at all times for any break or damage done to the paving, and the clerk's record was ordered to read with words to that effect.

The work with the paving will get started again this week, according to Mr. Moore.

A petition asking for the construction of cement sidewalks in West Third street, from the Nickel Plate railroad west to Iva street, on the south side of the highway, was filed and granted. The sidewalk program will make the west end of Third street

MARRIED FORTY YEARS, SEEKING A DIVORCE

His Complaint

After being married almost forty years, a divorce suit was filed today in the circuit court, in which the husband alleges that his wife has wilfully abandoned him, and has not lived with him for four years.

The suit was brought by Samuel H. Epler against Edith Epler. They were married in Ann Arbor, Mich., October 17, 1884, according to the complaint, and separated September 6, 1920, since when they have not lived together. The charge of abandonment is the only cause contained in the complaint.

The suit sets out that the plaintiff is a resident of Rushville, and lives at 510 North Harrison street, and is the local representative for an oil agency, and this his wife is living at 2014 East Superior St., Alma, Michigan.

Among the new suits filed, is a complaint by Otto F. Bassard against Elizabeth N. Stucker and others, in which the plaintiff demands judgment for $400 on an account.

With Party of 21 Saturday

Miss Henrietta Coleman, supervisor of art in the Rushville schools, who left Tuesday evening for New York City, will sail Saturday on the S. S. Orbita with a party of twenty-one persons for a tour of Europe. Miss Coleman has conducted parties in the past on overseas tours, her knowledge of the art, history and literature of the countries to be visited making the trip especially valuable to those in the party.

All of the capitals of the continent and the British Isles will be visited and cities of historic lore are on the itinerary.

The party is scheduled to arrive in Montreal on the return trip home August 31.

Body of Thomas Ross in First Stages of Decomposition When Dis-

SEARCH FOR MONEY FRUITLESS

Thomas Ross, age 71 years, an eccentric and anachronistic citizen of Walker township, was found dead in the woods near his secluded shack on the Ora Lower farm Tuesday evening about seven o'clock.

County coroner Dr. J. M. Lee was called and investigated the death, and returned a verdict that death was due to natural causes, probably heart trouble or apoplexy. The deceased had probably been dead since Sunday, and his body was in first stages of decomposition.

Mr. Ross had lived the life of a hermit for 30 years and was regarded as a most peculiar person in his vicinity. He was scarcely ever seen, and maintained his residence in a small shack on the Lower farm, northeast of Homer.

He had been married at one time, it was stated, but had developed into a recluse after his wife had died. His body was found in the woods about dark, by persons who were passing his cabin. An attempt to locate any money in his home has failed and it was not known whether he had it buried or hidden.

As far as could be determined, he is survived by only a half sister, who is said to reside in Sharpville, Ind.

Funeral services will be held Thursday morning at ten o'clock at the Pleasant Ridge M. E. church in charge of the Rev. E. L. Miller of Arlington, and burial will be made in the church cemetery.

Two special court judges were named this morning in the circuit court to try cases that are pending for trial, and for which a list of judges was submitted, after a change was granted from the local court.

In the criminal suit of the State against Bert Wilson, charged with violating the liquor laws, and which was set for today, but delayed on account of the change of judge, the selection has left the appointment open to Fremont Miller, regular judge of the Johnson county court. He will set the trial for a hearing.

In this case, the state struck off the names of Judge James Collins of Indianapolis and Judge Charles A. Lowe of Lawrenceburg, and the defense struck off Ralph Himelick of Greensville and John W. Craig of Greensburg, leaving the name of Judge Miller.

In the other case, the attorneys this morning selected Judge Craig of Greensburg to hear the complaint of Walter E. Smith against Edith Beale and John Beale, a suit on a mortgage. In this complaint three judges were submitted, with the defendant striking off Judge Rufus Hinshaw of Newcastle and the plaintiff striking off Judge Miller of Franklin.

If Ralston is Formally Presented,
Van Nuys Will Make Nominating
Speech—Local Men Gojng

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., June 18—Five hundred Hoosiers determined to capture the Democratic presidential nomination for Senator Ralston or know the reason why, will leave Indianapolis Saturday afternoon for the Democratic convention in New York.

Meredith Nicholson, chairman of the publicity committee spreading the information on Ralston to the Democrats of the nation, is already in New York.

Tom Taggart under whose guidance Ralston's boom has developed will reach New York Wednesday or Thursday for a series of pre-convention caucuses with leaders of other states.

It has not been definitely decided whether Ralston will be formally placed in nomination. The course of campaign will be determined at the last moment in New York.

If Ralston's name is formally presented to the convention, Frederick Van Nuys, keynote orator at the recent Democratic state convention will probably make the nomination speech.

If Ralston's name is not placed in nomination the Indiana delegation will vote solidly for him and work to rally strength to his cause as the balloting progresses.

Ralston himself will not be in New York. He will stay at his country home near Indianapolis during the convention and according to all indications will continue to refuse to make any move that might be interpreted as formally getting into the race.

With flags and bunting and banners proclaiming the Ralston boom, the Hoosier special will pull out of the Union station at 4 p. m. Saturday afternoon. It will make stops at Richmond and Ft. Wayne to pick up delegations and will reach New York at 2:05 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Twelve years ago a Hoosier special went from Indianapolis to the Baltimore convention to boom Thomas R. Marshall for the presidency. It came back with the vice president nomination.

WIND WRECKS BENTON, ILL.

(By United Press)
Benton, Ill., June 18—A destructive wind of almost hurricane proportions, hit Benton today and wrecked the city. Hundreds of trees were blown down and dozens of buildings felled. Traffic is impossible in many streets, trees as large as two feet in diameter, having been torn up by the roots.

The city is without electric service and phones are crippled.

Hardware stores sold out entire stocks of axes as property owners started clearing the yards and streets. Many store fronts in the business streets were shattered by the wind.

Afternoon of July 3, But Noise-
Making Has Started

DEALERS NOT GUILTY

Complaints are being registered about the firing of fireworks, which has become annoying to many people.

Since the ban on fireworks, which has been in effect here for several years, was lifted for the Fourth on account of the Modern Woodmen State Log Rolling and celebration here, local dealers have laid in a heavy supply of fireworks with the understanding that none be sold until the afternoon of July 3, when the celebration can begin legally.

Several Rushville dealers this morning called attention of the promiscuous firing Tuesday night and said that someone was evidently disobeying the orders of the city authorities.

Many dealers have been taking orders for fireworks to be delivered Thursday afternoon, July 3, but none has permitted any to be taken from their stores, it is said.

They say that fireworks is being sold in all of the small towns of the county, and that boys, in all probability, have been going to these towns to get their supply.

Even though they buy their fireworks elsewhere, boys and others are warned that firecrackers should not be fired in Rushville until the afternoon of July 3, when the celebration begins officially.

He Will Ask no Quarter and Will

SPEAKS TO HIS NEIGHBORS

Curse The World Over

(By United Press)
Chicago, June 18—Charles G. Dawes, explosive Republican vice presidential nominee, has leaped into the campaign without waiting for official notification of his nomination.

"Dawes just had to say something", Wm. M. Butler, chairman of the national Republican committee, remarked with a broad smile, "so he said it."

Standing in a heavy rain, with water streaming down his bare head and into the collar of a rain coat, Dawes told a gathering of men and women on the east lawn of the Dawes Evanston home that he would trail the political demagogue to his lair and "ask no quarter and give none." Political demagogues are a curse the world over, Dawes said. Europe's unhappiness he attributed in large measure to demagogues.

Dawes called for honest discussions of public affairs and issued the following challenge:

"As to the demagogue on the stump, whatever may be his party, I want it distinctly understood that in the coming campaign I ask no quarter and give no quarter."

After the Dawes speech the crowd furled its umbrellas and filed into the house for the handshaking, which lasted an hour and left Dawes frankly weary.

Butler will leave for Washington on Friday where he will discuss plans for the campaign with President Coolidge. Butler refused to discuss the rumors of disagreement among leaders of the campaign, stating an amicable adjustment had already been made.

HAD BOTTLE OF WHITE MULE

Hubert Moser was arrested in South Pearl street this morning by Chief of Police Blackburn on a charge of public intoxication. He had a pint bottle, half filled with white mule in his pocket. The chief of police had to call a taxi to get Moser to jail.

First Thought Foul Play

Wheaton, Ill. June 18—The drowning of Mr. and Mrs. William Barr and Mrs. Emma Mack, a widow, here yesterday, where their automobile plunged into a quarry filled with some fifty feet of water, was accidental, police announced today.

Foul play was suspected when the body of Mrs. Barr recovered today with that of Mrs. Mack was found to be nude. Two relatives of the victim were taken into custody but they were released later. Police said the clothing had been torn from Mrs. Barr's body by grappling hooks.

Frank Havens, City Sanitary Inspector, Has Not Completed Annual

Frank Havens, city sanitary inspector, who has been assisting the board of health, under the direction of Dr. E. I. Wooden, stated today that he was completing the annual spring inspection of premises. His work has been considerably delayed on account of the rain during May.

More than 100 orders to clean up were issued during his inspection trip and although he has accomplished much in the way of getting rid of unsanitary conditions, yet Mr. Havens says that there is still plenty of work to keep him busy for another month.

During the inspection, Mr. Havens visits every person's back yard in Rushville, although the property owner may not know it. If conditions are sanitary, the property is checked from his list. If fish water, slop, bad odors and filth exist, an order is left, and a certain time is given in which the property must be cleaned. Unless the orders are carried out, the work is taken care of by the officer and the costs assessed against the property.

The people of Rushville are eager in all respects to assist in the work, after they have been shown and consulted in the matter. Mr. Havens consulted in the matter, Mr. Havens with them, he has not experienced any trouble.

DEFENSE MAINTAINS BRIDGE IS BIG ENOUGH

Branch

The law suit being heard at Newcastle, sent there from here on a change of venue, involving Hodges Branch and the Big Four railroad, was nearing an end late today, and was expected to be given to Judge Rufus Hinshaw for a decision.

The action being heard was filed here by Amos Baxter against the railroad, alleging that the bridge constructed by the railroad, is not large enough to permit water to go through during flood times, and that the water backs up on premises. Eleven other similar suits are pending trial, and each complaint seeks $1,000 damages.

The plaintiff finished with the evidence yesterday, and all of the plaintiffs in the other suits were witnesses.

Today the defense was presenting evidence, and among the chief witnesses for the railroad was W. M. Pearce of the Innis, Pearce and Company factory, located near the branch. Mr. Pearce as well as other witnesses for the defense, maintained that the fault was not with the bridge, but with the city officials in not cleaning and dredging the small branch. These witnesses maintained that the water could be taken care of, if the old bed, weeds and banks were cleaned and cut deeper.

POSSIBILITIES OF PARK ANNEX SEEN

Business Men Enthusied Over Thirty-Acre Addition After Visit Following Luncheon

AUTO BRIDGE COMPLETED

J. W. Schwab Urges Support of In-
Pride, at Park Session

The automobile bridge over Hodges branch, which connected up the Memorial park addition so that it may now be reached in machines, since streets have been laid out in the Stewart and Stewart addition, was completed by Rushville business men Tuesday afternoon, following a luncheon in the park, given by the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs.

James H. Lowry, former park commissioner of Indianapolis, and J. W. Schwab of Purdue University, addressed the meeting following the meal, and afterwards the business men went to the park annex, not so much to work, as explained by Samuel L. Trabue, who acted as chairman of the meeting but to get a view of the addition and an understanding of its possibilities.

Members of the two clubs and their guests, however, had enough implements along to make some showing in the park annex, which had already been given a thorough cleaning by city workmen. They cut some of the undergrowth along the branch, which is the eastern boundary of the park, and built a temporary bridge, so that the park will be accessible for the Fourth of July, when more than 10,000 people are expected here for State Modern Woodmen Log Rolling and celebration.

Many business men who got their first glimpse of the park annex were amazed at its natural beauty, and were very much enthused over the possibilities of making it a beautiful park. Many stately oaks and elms dot the thirty-acre tract and wild rose bushes are growing in abundance. The ground is level and covered with a thick stand of grass, making an ideal condition for a park. The underbrush has been cleared away and dead limbs cut from the trees.

Mr. Lowry said that he had never seen a park acreage with as many fine trees, and he asserted that any one of the trees, is worth at least $1,000. There are scores of them in the park annex. He advocated extreme care be taken of the trees, so as not to lose any of them, as the first step in park development.

Mr. Schwab made a short talk regarding the improved state fair, asserting that he fair management, during the seventy years of its existence had been building for the future so that the present generation was now able to enjoy one of the best

Refuses Pardon to Charles Marsh of

Indianapolis, Ind., June 18—Governor Branch disapproved fourteen of the 28 recommendations made by the State Pardon's Board for paroles Tuesday. Commutations of sentences and privilege of paying fines in installments.

Three unconditional paroles were granted and three refused. It was the first pardon list the governor has confronted with since assuming office. He announced himself as opposed to granting clemency to criminals at the expense of society.

Governor Branch approved a reduction of the sentence of Orville Maple from 2 to 14 to one to 14 years. He was sentenced from Rush-county for embezzlement.

Petitions on which the pardon board recommended refusal also included Charles Marsh of Rush county, liquor law violation. Marsh lived in Milroy and was sentenced upon a plea of guilty, admitting the sale of liquor to high school boys in that town. He was sentenced in the city court at Rushville.

uniform in appearance, where it is now unimproved. The petition calls for sidewalks for a distance of more than three blocks.

Property owners residing on the east side of Morgan street, between Ninth and Tenth streets, filed a petition asking for cement gutters, to take care of an over-supply of water during a rain, and the petition was granted, and the project will be completed by the property owners under the supervision of the city engineer.

The question of locating the Salvation Army on a corner where they will not congest traffic was again taken up, and it was decided to mark off 25 feet on the street, at the northwest corner of the corner house, diagonally across the street from the American National bank, where they have been conducting their services.

Complaint concerning conduct of persons in the city park was registered with the council, and arrests will be made where persons are found not conducting themselves properly. Park custodian Sampson was sworn in as a police officer, and as the police department has had another officer added to the force, the police chief was instructed to send an officer to the park each evening to see to it that the conduct of the patrons is first class.

On account of the addition to the police force of another man, the contract with William Denny, merchant police, who turns off the down town pedestal lights for $5 a month, was cancelled, and the turning off of the lights will be a part of the regular police officers business.

Ralph Edgerton of Edgerton and Co., appeared with a proposition to have the city decorate for the Fourth of July celebration. He offered a plan of having the five pedestal lights ornamented with flags and lodge emblems, and the work was to cost $390. The council could not see that the expense could be met, and the plan was abandoned.

The first car load of street oil has been ordered, and will arrive within a few days. The streets are being put in shape rapidly for the oiling.

The Nashville Natural Gas company was ordered to bury their gas pipes in Eleventh street, so that streets can be built into the Stewart and Stewart Memorial park addition. The pipes are now above the ground, and extend through the park. The city wants the pipes buried as soon as possible, so that the streets can be opened, as heavy traffic is expected in that part of the city on July 4.

The C. I. & W. railroad was ordered to clean up around their right-of-way at Harrison and Fourth streets. A pile of discarded material has been on hand for several months, and has been pointed to as an unsightly view in the neighborhood.

state fairs in the United States. "I am pleased to notice," he said, "that you men are building for the future by adding an annex to this little park, and you will soon find that you did not build too big."

Mr. Schwab pointed out that the fair was primarily agricultural, but that industrial interests were crowding in, and that it had become an exhibition of great educational value.

"As the largest hog producing county in Indiana," he continued, "and one of the best corn counties in the state, it behooves you to boost the state fair because of its worth as an educational factor in agriculture."

Mr. Schwab said that we make progress only by comparison, and that farmers who went to the state fair and saw the prize winners in livestock, grain and horticulture departments, they were inspired to do greater things and produce better products.

Mr. Schwab commented that no man's livestock or crops can advance any farther than the man himself, and that if prize products are developed in the county, it means that man of quality are behind them.

Mr. Schwab described the new hog and sheep barns and the Purdue exhibition building, which have been erected at a cost of one million dollars. He characterized the new equipment as the best, most modern, and most serviceable that it is possible to put up.

The speaker said that more than $106,000 in purses and premiums would be awarded at the fair this year. The premiums for boys and girls club work alone will total $6,000, he said.

Mr. Schwab described other features, such as the home economics school, to attend which each county is permitted to nominate one girl; the baby clinic and baby show, in which 900 babies were entered last year; the display of farm machinery and implements, the automobile exhibit, horse races and amusements, which he said would stand the test of the most critical.

MORE THAN $100,000 OF LOOT IS RECOVERED

ALL OF LOOT WILL BE REGAINED

(By United Press)

Chicago, June 18—Carlos Fontana, charged by police with being a notorious bandit, today was added to the list of men held in connection with the $3,000,000 mail train robbery near Roundout, Ill., last week. More than $100,000 of the loot has been recovered.

Now the police want Ernest Fontana, brother of Carlos, and Anthony Kissane, and the case will be complete. Chief of Police Collins said. Recovery of the balance of the loot is assured, Collins stated.

The recovered loot was found in an abandoned automobile near Joliet, Ills. There were 62 registered mail sacks in the car. All had been ripped open and ransacked for currency.

First reports to Chicago police were that nearly two-thirds of the loot had been recovered.

Says Democratic Platform Will Be Liberal Enough to Make LaFollette Candidacy Unnecessary

Two Principal Candidates for Presidential Nomination Installed in Headquarters

(By United Press)

Battle Creek, Mich., June 18—The democratic national platform is likely to be liberal enough to make the candidacy of Senator LaFollette unnecessary, William Jennings Bryan, declared here today.

Unless unexpected developments occur in international affairs the 1924 presidential election will be fought over economic issues, Bryan said.

New York, June 18—The first phase of the Democratic national convention of 1924 began unfolding today.

The two principal candidates to date—Governor A. Smith and William Gibbs McAdoo—are installed in their headquarters prepared for continuous personal direction of their respective convention campaign, McAdoo arriving this afternoon.

Likewise the leading convention strategists—George Brennan, Thomas Taggart and Ed Moore—will have arrived. Political medicine is brewing all over the city.

Upon his arrival here from Chicago this morning, Brennan was his usual uncommunicative self. "I am not a candidate for any office," he said. "So I'm not doing any talking."

Brennan went directly to his hotel where he was scheduled for conferences during the day.

Up to the present time pre-convention developments have been confined to surmises of a few scattered delegates who knew little but talked much, to propagandists who were eagerly advancing the cause of this candidate and that, or trouncing some plank for the platform.

There has been much discussion of the possibility of abolishing the two-thirds rule—the guesses being about even that McAdoo will and that he will sponsor the proposed change. Guessing on that point may stop late today, when he arrives in the city.

Two Kinds of Beauty.

Newark, N. J. Rotary Proposes Doves-Tailing Directors of Rotary

Toronto, Ont., June 18—Agitation for a proposal to remodel the directorate of the Rotary Clubs by electing directors for a two year term and having only half the board retire each year, have been started in the convention being held here this week.

This proposal for a dove-tailing directorate comes from the Newark N. J., club who would also increase the membership of the board from 8 to 10 allowing six American directors, one Canadian, one British and two others to be chosen by the eight directors already appointed, from the other geographical areas in which Rotary is represented.

FRANK HALL, AGE 62, DIES AT HOME IN MAYS

Born in Ohio and Spent Early Days in Kentucky, But Was Resident of County 35 Years

FUNERAL FRIDAY, 2 P. M.

Frank Hall, aged 62 years, died Tuesday evening at 10:30 o'clock, at his late residence in Mays, following a ten months illness with sugar diabetes and hardening of the arteries. He had been bedfast for the past seven weeks.

Mr. Hall was born in Ohio and spent most of his younger days in Kentucky. He has been a resident of this county for the past thirty-five years. The deceased was a member of the Christian church at Dunreith and of the Old Fellows lodge at Milroy. The survivors are the widow, two sons, Clarence and Wilbur Hall, and two grand children, Margaret and Frank.

The funeral services will be conducted at the First Presbyterian church in Mays Friday afternoon at two o'clock and burial will take place in the Knightstown cemetery.

The Park Annex

It is a human weakness to think the grass is greener on the other side of the river, that our neighbors are more fortunate than we, or that other communities are blessed with better natural advantages.

Of course, people who have taken the time to give thought to these fancies know they are not true, but the natural inclination is to see the glamour of things at a distance to the exclusion of the beauties under daily observation.

So it was necessary for the former park commissioner of Indianapolis, Frank H. Lowry, to come to Rushville to bring citizens of the city to a better appreciation of the rich possession Rushville has in its city park of natural beauty and the annex of thirty acres, which is to be dedicated to the memory of Rush county boys who died during the late war.

Mr. Lowry said that he had never seen an average blessed with so many fine trees. Too many people have viewed the trees in the park as just trees, never thinking of their immense value in the park, never realizing that they represent the work of nature for more than a century and that they could not be replaced for any sum of money.

It is not so many years ago that the late C. H. Parsons, then a member of the city council, was ridiculed for forcing through a program of tree conservation in the city park. He had a vision of the future that few other people had. He realized that if the park was to serve future generations as it should, the stately trees
there should not be allowed to die.

More than a decade later we have an experienced park man preaching the same doctrine. Mr. Lowry said that the first step in park development was conserving the natural resources of the park, which consist principally of the trees. That means they should not be allowed to become deceased and die, but that they should be cared for by experienced hands.

This is only one step in the direction of park development. It is necessary, as Mr. Lowry explained, to prepare a well-thought out program, recognizing the needs of the present, but always with a vision of the future and what the park will mean to our children and our children's children.

A Chronic P. O. Purse

One reason why President Coolidge retired the $68,000,000 postal salary increase bill was that the receipts of the postal service were not sufficient

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Staff Writer.WASHINGTON, D. C.—How will the Democratic convention react to eloquence?

That is the question friends of two of the dark horse possibilities are asking. For on the oratory of one and the same speaker depend to a very great extent the fortunes in the convention of the two presidential entries from the Buckeye state.

James M. Cox, Democratic nominee in 1920, will have behind him a delegation from Ohio instructed to fight for his nomination for a second chance at the presidency.

None of these delegates believe Cox stands any reasonable chance of nomination.

"Lightning," they opine, "doesn't strike twice in the same place."
When reminded of Bryan and his three nominations, they switch their metaphor and say that
"Bryan is the only Democratic cat with nine lives."

And yet, behind this scepticism, there flickers a faint hope that the unexpected may happen. This hope is kindled by the belief that the speech putting Cox in nomination will be the most eloquent and appealing utterance to be made at the convention.

COX will be placed in nomination
by his fellow-Ohioan, Newton D.
Baker, former secretary of war.
Baker is a small man physically, but a mighty orator. He, more than any other Democrat of today has the "gift of tongues."

Compelling, forceful, appealing, there is a persuasive quality alike to his argument and his logic that moves his hearers.

On this speech, more than on any other factor, rests Cox's chances for a "come-back." But even Cox's most loyal friends admit that it is a long shot. Frankly, they doubt that it can be done.

A much more likely result, in the opinion of wise political minds, is that the reaction to the Baker speech may project him before the convention as a presidential figure himself and that Baker instead of Cox will prove to be Ohio's real

THE most rapidly inflating boom of the immediate pre-convention days, however, is that for Senator Carter Glass of Virginia.
Glass combines certain elements of strength, politically, that put him well up in the list of likely "compromise" candidates.

As a member of the Wilson cabinet and a champion of Wilson policies he would hold the favor of a large part of the former president's followers in the convention.
He would be acceptable to the moderately progressive or mildly conservative groups in the party.

On the other hand, Glass would be wholly acceptable to "big business" and "the interests."

This would be due not so much,
perhaps, to the belief that he would lean unduly in their direction, but to the fact that they already know where he stands. They would be in no doubt as to his attitude on the majority of questions that might arise.

As chairman of the House committee that wrote the Federal Reserve Act, and as secretary of treasury, they have had ample opportunity to dissect, analyze and classify him. And he is down in their books as "satisfactory."

As a "safe and sane" candidate, one that would not rock the boat or upset any apple-carts, the conservatives are carefully refraining from throwing any rocks at Glass.

Texas Lady Says Her Family
Has Been Taking Theford's Black-Draught, When Needed, for Many Years.

Alto, Texas.—"We inherited the use of Black-Draught in our family," says Mrs. Mary Shuptrine, who lives near here on R. F. D. 2. "My grandmother was an old woman when she died about ten years ago, and she had been using it literally ever since I can remember. She gave it to her children and grandchildren for biliousness and stomach complaints, so when I went to housekeeping we just naturally used it, too."

"I give it to my children for a purgative whenever they need one, and we are never without it. Made into tea, it surely is fine. It's the best home remedy for headache and constipation I know of."

During over 80 years of its continued popularity, Black-Draught has become the standard liver medicine in many thousands of homes, where it has been found of great benefit in the treatment of constipation, biliousness, indigestion, and other common liver, stomach and bowel complaints. Ten million packages of Black-Draught are now sold a year, as more and more people are learning of the value of this well-known remedy.

For Battle For Wight Cup Begin-
ning at Wimbledon Today

HELEN WILLS IN GOOD FORM

 (U. P. Staff Correspondent)
 London, June 18—Her blush hid-
 den beneath the brownest of tanned
 cheeks, Helen Wills, American woman
 tennis champion, was ready for the
 tennis fight as she and her companions on the American team got in
 some final touches for the fight for
 the Wight cup which started at Wimbledon today.

 Molly Mallory, Miss Eleanor Goss,
 and Mrs. Marion Z. Jessup is in the finest physical condition although
 they were hampered by poor weather
 recently from getting in all the training they would have liked.

Miss Suzanne Lenglen is due to arrive tomorrow to take a look at Miss Wills' play in the Wightman
 cup matches. The French girl is scheduled to play several exhibition
 matches but has not yet promised to defend her singles title at Wimbledon.

Lenglen will play in the doubles
 but not in the singles, it is believed,
 unless she feels she can defeat Miss Wills.

ON THE SCOREBOARD

Yesterday's Hero—Babe Ruth,
 who besides batting out his six-

 Yankees by scoring from second on an
 infield out. Score, New York 7,
 Cleveland 5.

The Pirates and Braves broke even
 on a double bill, the Pittsburghers
 taking the first 5-2, and being shut
 out by McNamara in the second 1-0.
 Detroit won its straight third victory over Boston and climbed into
 second place. Score 7 to 4.

The Cubs could only touch County for four singles but made their
 count and beat the Phils, who hit
 Keen hard, 6 to 5.

Snyder singled with the bases full
 in the fifth and the Giants won from
 the Cards, 5 to 3.

Osborne kept his Indiana sign on
 the Cincinnati Reds and the Dodgers
 got to Benton in the first innings,
 winning 5 to 4.

The Senators made 15 hits off four
 White Sox pitchers and won 15 to 6.

NEW OPEN CHAMP
WON DESPITE RAIN

By FRANK GETTY
 (Written for United Press)
 New York, June 18—A hippocket
 size "pro" is our new open golf
 champ.

But what little Cyril Walker of Englewood, N. J., lacks in physique
 he makes up in gameness.

Few golfers ever achieved the open
 title under a mental handicap such
 as the diminutive star overcame.

One of a field of 84 crack professionals and amateurs who met in
 championship play over the long and
 difficult course at Oakland Hills in June, Walker drew a late starting
 time for the closing day's play.

As a result, throughout the entire
 nine holes of his final round, he was subjected to a handicap which has beaten many a famous golfer. He
 knew just what he had to beat.

Every time Walker was in trouble,
 he had to figure:

"Jones is in with 300 and I've
 played so and so and if I miss this
 and take a par four on the next" etc
 etc.

The gallery was counting, too, with
 every stroke.

But little Walker plugged right
 ahead. A day before the tournament
 started, few had figured him as a strong contender. At the end of the first day's play he was up with the
 leaders, but it wasn't until the end
 of his morning round on the closing
 day that New Jersey "pro" loomed up
 as the darkest of dark horses, threatening Bobby Jones' title.

Walker's last nine holes were
 played with consummate courage, but
 there was one shot that sticks out,
 and which will go down in golfing history.

The sixteenth hole at Oakland Hills
 is a terror. It was the bane of existence to a majority of the field this
 year, and at the bottom of the water
 hazard which traps many a second
 shot lies a ball of Walter Hagen's,
 marking the spot where Hagen
 cracked and threw away his chances.

No. 16 is a nasty water hole, the
 hazard coming on the second shot. A long drive and a second shot equally
 long are necessary to effect a par
 four.

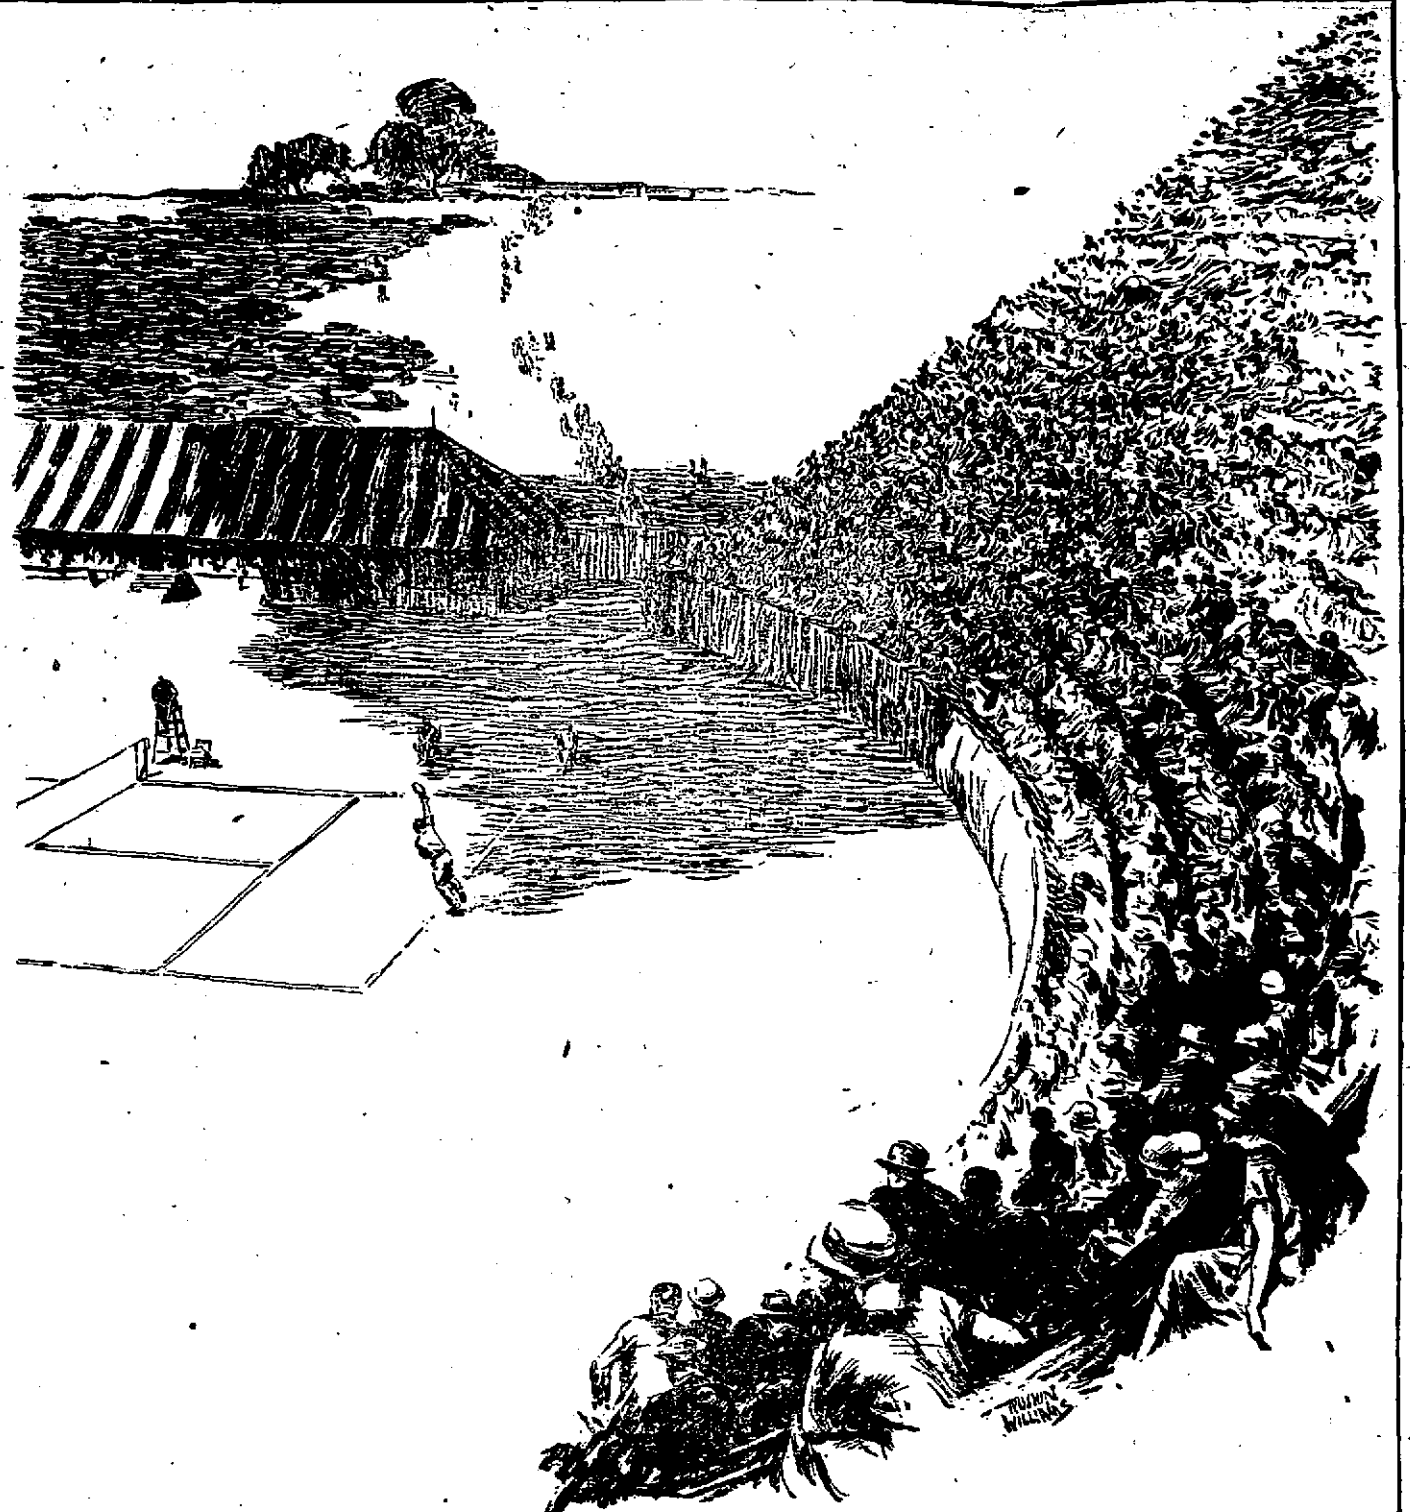

Walker had an advantage of one
 stroke over Jones at this point. Par
 golf would bring him in victor.

His drive was off to the right, badly placed. There was the green, with the treacherous water hazard intervening, a high wind whistling across
 the fairway. To the right of the green were some bunkers, to which Walker could play, chancing five, and
 making of his stroke advantage, rather than risk six or seven from a
 sunken ball.

The new champion hesitated, fiddled with a mid-iron, then with a
 driving iron, finally he set himself
 and played his shot straight for the
 pin. It soared over the yawning water and rolled and rolled, right up to
 the cup, stopping just eight feet short.
 Walker said never a word, sank the
 putt for a three and put the title in
 his pocket right then and there.

It is always a source of satisfaction to professionals when a "pro"
 takes the open title. It means so much money to him, a year's occupation as an exhibition player and other material advantages, whereas to an amateur it brings a little glory.

However, no amateur ever won the title twice in succession. Outright tried, Travers tried, Chick Evans

Such popularity must be deserved

WHETHER it's tennis or
 cigarettes or anything else,
 popularity is no stroke of luck.
 No champion ever held his
 laurels except by making good.
 No cigarette ever held popular
 favor except by deserving it.

The popularity of Chesterfields
 is an outstanding example. For
 months now they have been
 drawing over 1000 smokers a day
 away from other cigarettes.
 Surely this is proof of their
 quality and good taste.

BELGIAN PILOT IS DECLARED WINNER

DeMuyter Achieves Success for Third
 Successive Time and is Awarded
 Bennett Trophy

(By United Press)

Brussels, June 18—The Belgian
 balloon pilot, DeMuyter, was officially
 declared winner of this year's Gordon
 Bennett cup race today. He
 achieves success in this event for the
 third successive season and becomes
 permanent owner of the trophy.

DeMuyter, piloting the Belgica,
 landed at Saint Abb's Head, in Ber-
 wickshire.

Previous reports that he had landed near Brighton apparently were unfounded.

McMuyter traveled the greatest
 distance from Brussels where the race started Sunday. The Frenchman,
 LaPorte was second.

All the contestants now have landed.

There were three American entries
 and none figured in the money. W. G.
 VanOrman, piloting the Goodyear,
 landed at Amsterdam, while Captain
 H. R. Honeywell, in the Uncle Sam,
 came down on the French coast, and Major Peck in the S-14 landed in Belgium.

The Ladies Aid Society of the First Baptist church will meet Thursday afternoon at the church and all members are urged to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Shuttleworth and daughter Miss Bernice of Alpine, and Miss Elizabeth Shuttleworth of Port Sumption, Ohio, were the guests of Mrs. L. T. Hart in West Second street, this morning.

The Always Present Class of the Main Street Church will meet at the home of Miss Frances Mattox in East Fifth street, Thursday evening. All the members are urged to be present.

Mattox Circle, No. 51, Ladies of the G. A. R. will meet Friday afternoon at two o'clock in the assembly room of the court house. Following the business session a Flag Day program will be given to which all veterans are invited.

There will be a meeting of the Immaculate Sodality of the St. Mary's Catholic church Friday evening at the home of Miss Margaret Kelly in West First street. It is very urgent that all the members be present and those who are to be enrolled Sunday, are also requested to be present.

Mrs. Gunn Haydon entertained the members of the Tuesday Afternoon Bridge club Tuesday afternoon at her home in North Main street. The ladies enjoyed the afternoon around the card tables and in the evening Mrs. Haydon had the ladies and their husbands for dinner, a delicious repast being served.

Mrs. Paul Newhouse entertained the members of Miss Mary Logan's Sunday school class of the First United Presbyterian church Tuesday evening at her home in West Ninth street, with a pitch-in supper. After the serving of the supper a business session and social hour was held. Thirteen members of the class were present for the meeting.

The Auxiliary club met at the home of Mrs. Mary L. Bryant Tuesday afternoon for their regular meeting. The rooms were beautifully decorated with cut flowers for the meeting. Thirteen members and five guests were present. After the business meeting a very good program was given, after which the hostess served a dainty luncheon. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Lydia Turner, July 15.

were from two to five o'clock and were enjoyed with games. At the conclusion of the party refreshments of ice cream, cake and lemonade were served. The guests were Donald Wilson, Richard Haydon, Dan Ryan, Bobby Waggener, Harold Allen, William Keeley, Charles Armstrong, Earl Brown and Forrest Carter.

The members of the Helping Hand Society of the Homer Christian church were entertained at the home of Mrs. Cyrus Willey near Homer Thursday afternoon. Eleven members and seven visitors were present. After the business session a short program was rendered. Mrs. Alonzo Willey gave a reading entitled, "Mrs. Probe makes a Short Call", which was well received. Miss Violet Willey sang a very beautiful solo and Miss Ruth Miller gave some piano selections. At the close of the evening dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held July 10 at the home of Mrs. Claude Adams in Homer.

The Psi Chi Xi sorority held initiation for the following pledges, the Misses Rosalyn Reed, Margaret Guffin, Katherine Haydon, Florence Lambert, Mildred Retherford, Marian Kinsinger, Jean Herkless and Leland Hunt, Tuesday morning at ten o'clock at the home of Mrs. Harold Pearce in North Main street. Following the pledge service, the girls motored to the Connersville Country club where a beautiful luncheon was served, honoring the new members of the sorority. The appointments for the luncheon tables were carried out in spring flowers and each pledge received a pretty corsage of flowers, as a gift from the sorority. Following the luncheon the guests played bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Warner entertained a number of guests Sunday with a dinner party at their home southwest of the city. The dining table was prettily decorated with roses and other spring flowers. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. R. Kiser, Mr. and Mrs. Fred McGinnis of this city, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Mitchell and son Neal, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shaffer of Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Coffin of Warsaw, Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Partlow, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Partlow and children, Mr. and Mrs. Ozro Partlow and daughter Miss Mildred and grandson, Ozro Partlow, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Perin and children Laura, Wilbur and Ruth, Mrs. George Best and daughter, Ben Miller, C. C. Beck, Howard Warner, Paul George and Miss Martha Johnson of Connersville. A musical program was given in the af-

Mr. and Mrs. George Looney, Jr., entertained with a surprise party Tuesday evening at their home in North Main street, honoring the birthday anniversary of Mrs. H. B. Armstrong. About thirty five guests were present and enjoyed the evening pleasantly with games and music.

On Tuesday evening a goodly company, the parents and friends of the pupils, met in the home of Mrs. Lucy Meredith in North Morgan street, to listen to a piano recital and musical demonstration. This class is known as "The Juvenile Music Club." Twenty-eight pupils took part in the exercises.

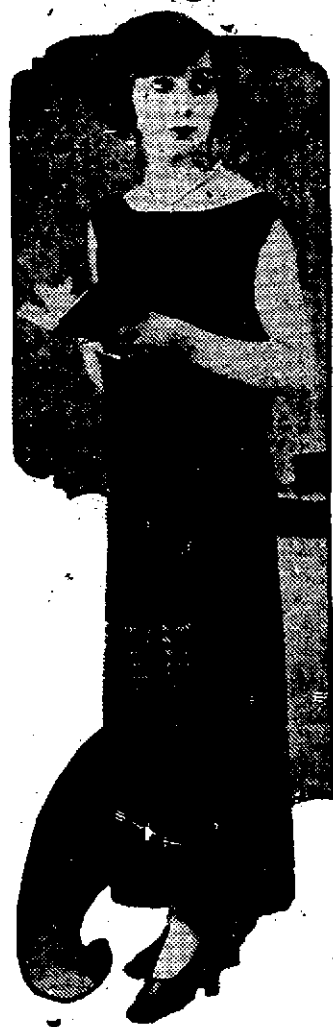

In addition to rendering a fine program, arranged for its educational value to the child rather than for the entertainment of the audience, there were several very pleasant surprises. Among these were rhythmical drawings, class songs, the placing of bars to unfamiliar music, melodies composed by members of the class set to familiar words and sung by the class and accompaniments by members of the class, and recitations of interesting items of musical history and practical sentiment.

Much appreciation was expressed for the great work that is being done for the boys and girls, as many of these youthful performers did not know one note from another a year ago. Whether in solo, duet, quartet or sextuple, not one failed or hesitated or seemed embarrassed. It would be hard to overestimate the value of this instruction in the rudiments of voice culture and the technique of instrumental music. The parents showed their appreciation by the generous applause given to each performer.

The D. A. R.'s are asked to please remember to bring their dishes and silverware to the picnic Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock at Memorial Park, for the annual pitch-in supper. Ice cream cones and ice cream sandwiches can be purchased for

Fringe

This dinner frock of black satin has little to distinguish it but the fringe overskirt woven in triangular patterns to give the effect of heavy embroidery. Fringe is very fashionable this season because it falls naturally into the straight lines that are imperative if one achieves the smart silhouette.

a small amount at the picnic of Ed Lyons. A large crowd of the members and their families and guests is expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mull, living southwest of the city had for their dinner guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hilligoss, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Martz and son Claire of Anderson.

The Misses Laurett Abercrombie and Olive Logan entertained a few of their friends with a lawn party near their homes in north Perkins street, last evening. The evening was spent in dancing and playing games.

Lurline Council, No. 296, D. of P., will meet in regular session Thursday evening at eight o'clock at the Red Men hall in West First street. There will be business of importance and all members are requested to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. William Clark were surprised Sunday at noon when Alvin Clark and family, Virgil Clark and family, Mr. and Mrs. Porter Winegard and Mr. and Mrs. George Clark, Harry Coons, Claud Levi, Manuel Newland, Jack Sweet, Gail Craige, Harold Matlock, Russell Ellerman, Clifford Woods, Bert Norman, of Richland, Bert Ratkin and Bert Vogel and William Vogel, came in on them and gave them a surprise.

The Cock and the Gem

A COCK came down from his roost at dawn and scratched the ground in search of food. By and by, he turned up a fine gem. He gave it a kick and muttered softly to himself, "Huh, you're a fine thing, no doubt, but to my mind one good grain of wheat is worth all the gems in the world."

It's all in the way you look at it. The wealth of the universe wouldn't be worth much to you if it couldn't buy you something to eat. Inversely, the more you can buy for your money, the more your money is worth.

"Triumph" At Princess

Rod La Roquette takes the palm for rapid-fire romances. First it was Nita Naldi, then Gloria Swanson and now its Leatrice Joy.

Of course it's pictures we refer to. La Roquette played with Miss Naldi in the DeMille production, "The Ten Commandments," then came a featured role opposite Miss Swanson in "A Society Scandal," and at present he is featured in the principal male role in Cecil B. DeMille's newest Paramount production, "Triumph," which comes to the Princess theatre today and Thursday.

La Roquette gets a great acting chance in this picture as a man who has never had to work and doesn't, only to find himself stripped of the money and power he was accustomed to as heir to the Garnet Can Works.

Miss Joy is a forewoman in the factory determined to get ahead by her own efforts and not because of any man she might marry. Victor Varconi is La Roquette's rival for the girl's hand. Never having had money, he has strange ideas of its power, ideas which permit a series of gorgeous and spectacular scenes when circumstances reverse the positions of La Roquette and himself.

There's a remarkable climax—a twist that will keep them guessing.

Others featured in the cast of the production are Charles Ogle, Julia Faye, Theodore Kosloff, Robert Edison, Zaza Pitts, George Fawcett and Raymond Hatton.

Jeanie Macpherson is the author of the screen play.

"Main Street." Castle

The screen adaption of Sinclair Lewis' novel, "Main Street," will be shown at the Castle theatre for two days beginning today according to an announcement of this theatres management.

The picturization of the novel is declared to have made an unusual picture wherein the characters of the story live vividly. It is said that the producers spared no time or expense in giving the picture the last perfect touches, even going to the extent of studying Main Street conditions and peculiarities. Harry Beaumont, who directed the picture, is himself a Main Street product, having been born in a small town.

Morance Vidor and Monte Blue play the feature roles, with a strong supporting cast made up of Harry Myers, Noah Beery, Louise Fazenda, Robert Gordon, Josephine Crowell, Gordon Griffiths, Otis Harlan and Alan Hale.

"Main Street" is the story of Carol Kennicott, who comes to Gopher Prairie, a small mid-western town, and instantly sets to changing it to her heart's desire—at least she tries to. She starts with her husband, Doctor Kennicott, whom she considers boorish and crude, because he is practical.

What Is The Use Of Living?

What is the use of living when a woman gets up in the morning as tired as when she went to bed at night with headache, backache, dragging-down pains, nervous, irritable and despondent? These are all symptoms of ailments peculiar to her sex which makes life a burden. Every woman in this condition should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a good old-fashioned remedy made from roots and herbs. It contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and for fifty years has been restoring women to health and strength and the joys of living.
